

THE ELL BROOK COMMUNITY PROJECT BIO-BLITZ: 27 JUNE 2021

The Ell Brook Community Project, on the edge of Newent, is a +10 hectare site dedicated to conservation, education, and therapeutic outdoor pursuits.

A “Bio-Blitz” involves recording as many observations of fauna and flora as possible, yielding important data.

We will be using iNaturalist, an app that allows enthusiasts of all abilities to contribute as citizen scientists. The more people we have recording observations, the better!

Where: Meet at cnr of Tewkesbury and Redmarley Roads, GL18 1LG

When: 10h00 Sunday 27th June

What to bring: If possible, bring your phone, with the iNaturalist app downloaded. Otherwise, a camera and note book will suffice. A hat, boots, and water bottle are also advised.
